

Happy Mother's Day
Edward's Mum!

You're the Gordan Ramsey of pasta making
Photos of your creamy white chicken pasta has me aching
I hope you enjoy your Sam's Club desk and use it well
A gift from your son and from his friend Dell

I've been dreaming about gifting you this desk for months
Of course ur nonchalant son kept stalling and I had to remind him a bunch

Though slugs and brothers in cages filled his childhood days,
You still shaped him in all the right ways.

I wish you were MY mum sometimes
I would have no more early bedtimes
Your creamy pasta? I'd eat it with pride,
But alas, you cannot be my mother, as Edward's dog cage is where I'd reside:.)

I'm sorry he wasted your lipstick, using it all over your mirror
Hope this desk makes up for it- and brings some cheer nearer.

Happy Mother's Day Edward's Mum!
